Portfolio Commentary

The S&P/ASX200 Accumulation Index added 1.2% during March to close a very strong quarter for local equities underpinned largely by positive global sentiment, particularly towards the US. Materials were again a drag on the local Index as concerns over slowing Chinese demand culminated in the Chinese National People's Congress lowering the GDP target to 7.5% from 8%; the lowest since 2004.

Consequently BHP was the Trust's worst performing position. However, relative to the benchmark materials were actually a net contributor as Newcrest Mining- in which the Trust has an underweight position- underperformed the Index by 12%.

The cooling in Chinese demand and the anticipated impact on Australia's terms of trade led to steep falls in the Australian Dollar. This contributed to the outperformance of the Healthcare sector as a large proportion of their income is generated overseas. This income distribution also means that the Trust is underweight Healthcare as few companies generate franking credits. This contributed to the underperformance of the Trust.

The Trust's best performing sector was Consumer Staples with both Woolworths and Wesfarmers outperforming the market. Woolworths released first half results which showed good margin expansion amid a weak sales environment.

Notes: Since inception (17 Nov 05) the AOD Trust has delivered an annualised return of 6.24%, assuming distributions and franking credits are reinvested. 1. This represents a cumulative return and assumes the reinvestment of distributions and franking credits. 2. The Benchmark return is calculated daily as 50% of the return of the UBS Australia Bank Bill Index plus 50% of the return of the S&P/ASX 200 Accumulation Index. 3. The Trust intends to always distribute at least 1.5% of NAV, excluding any franking credits, per quarter regardless of performance. This means that if there is insufficient net income in a given quarter, investors may receive a partial (or full) return of capital. 4. Please note each historical distribution of AOD has been divided by eight to reflect the Unit split carried out in July 2008. 5. The percentage franked is based on a relative comparison to a Company that may pay a 100% franked dividend. A Unit Trust can accumulate franking credits and pass these through to Unitholders. Trusts can have distributions which include franking at more than 100%. *The investment objective is expressed after the deduction of fees and before taxation. See the respective PDS for details on taxation. The objective is not intended to be a forecast, and is only an indication of what the investment strategy aims to achieve over the medium to long term. While we aim to achieve the objective, the objective and returns are not guaranteed.
