

Performance Report - May 2015

Summary

- The Trust outperformed the cash benchmark returning 1.0% in May 2015.
- The Long/Short and Convergence strategies provided the majority of the returns.
- The Trust has produced improved performance over the last 5 months by returning 5.02% and outperforming cash by 4.09% over this period.

Performance¹

	1 month	3 months	1 Year	3 Years (p.a)	Since Inception (p.a) 1 July 2008
Investment Strategy - Composite	1.0%	2.7%	5.5%	4.7%	4.4%
Cash Rate (Benchmark)	0.2%	0.5%	2.4%	2.8%	3.7%

The above composite/hybrid performance summary reflects a combination of the performance of the investment strategy as it applied (net of fees) within the former Aurora Sandringham Global Income Trust (ARSN 131 291 499 - now terminated) since its inception in July 2008 to 30 November 2010, and then the performance of this Trust (which implemented the same strategy) since 30 November 2010 to date. This is not the actual performance of Aurora Global Income Trust (AIB). The actual return of AIB since inception is 3.09% p.a. The table above and the charts below refer to the performance of the composite/hybrid strategy and not of the actual performance of AIB.

Investment Objective*

The Trust aims to achieve absolute returns (i.e. positive returns in both rising and falling equity markets) by using a number of different global investment strategies that allows the performance of the Trust to have very little correlation to the performance of global equity market indices. The focus on 'absolute returns' differs from traditional funds in that the Trust aims to produce positive returns regardless of equity market conditions.

Investment Strategy

The Investment Manager has a wide discretion over the investments that may be held by the Trust. The pursuit of a diverse range of global investment strategies means that the Trust's returns are not necessarily dependent on any stock markets' direction, or dependent on any specific assumption or key market parameter. The Trust does not seek to replicate the standard industry benchmarks.

The Trust seeks to take advantage of companies that are expected to increase in value relative to the market around the announcement of their quarterly, half-yearly and yearly earnings results, while hedging their market and currency exposure.

In selecting additional investments for the Trust, the Manager follows a rigorous investment selection process which includes detailed qualitative and fundamental research.

The Trust may use derivatives for risk management as well as to create new positions. The Trust may opportunistically short sell securities that are considered to be overpriced in the anticipation of purchasing them later at lower prices for a profit and/or to reduce risk on the overall portfolio.

Portfolio Commentary

The US S&P500 Index was down -2.3% and the Eurostoxx Index declined -1.2% in May. Towards the end of the month Greek concerns resurfaced as a payment to the International Monetary Fund looms in the first week of June. Bond yields spiked (from very low levels) and banking indices underperformed. Materials and Energy sectors were the standout performers. In Australia the cash rate was cut by 0.25% in May to a record low of 2% p.a. with the Reserve Bank of Australia citing ongoing economic weakness. The Trust returned +0.97% for the month outperforming the cash benchmark of 0.17%.

The Earnings Announcement strategy was down (-0.05%) in a busy quarterly reporting period. The Trust has employed an added layer of qualitative research over Materials and Energy stocks which has been scaled back as equity prices have eventually rerated to reflect underlying commodity prices. The Trust will continue to see an underweight exposure in these sectors as the quantitative process eliminates more volatile stocks.

The Long/Short strategy was profitable (+0.43%). The Trust increased exposure to companies trading at a significant discount to cash, as well as deriving profit from trading block opportunities and the Asian upgrade/downgrade cycle.

The Convergence strategy also produced good returns (+0.41%). South32 Ltd (S32.ASX) debuted on the ASX, South Africa's JSE and on London's FTSE on 18 May after demerging from BHP Billiton Ltd (BHP.ASX). This provided good convergence trading opportunities as a diverse range of investors created large liquidity and spreads in markets.

In Mergers and Acquisitions Toll Holdings (TOL.ASX) concluded the scheme of arrangement with Japan Post. The Trust also held a position in the CK Holdings (1 HK) and Hutchison Whampoa (13 HK) merger.

The Yield strategy & Options strategy provided a small positive return. The Trust's largest Yield holding continues to be the Antares Energy Convertible Notes (AZZG.ASX).

1. The returns are calculated by compounding each monthly return with distributions reinvested. All returns are net of fees.
 2. The Trust intends to always distribute at least 2.5% of NAV per Unit per quarter regardless of Trust performance. This means that if the Trust has insufficient net income in a given quarter, investors may receive a partial (or full) return of capital.
 3. Each historical distribution has been divided by seven to reflect the Unit split carried out in November 2009.
